FESTIVAL VOLUNTEER ROLE DESCRIPTION

Do you want a fairer, more sustainable world? Do you love international cinema and want to help share inspiring films in these times of crisis? If so, join the Take One Action Film Festival Volunteer Team!

“The TOA team was very flexible and supportive throughout the process by being very friendly and sharing their expertise and resources.” - 2021 Volunteer

“TOA really makes you feel a full part of the team. Volunteering for the festival is a boost of energy and to keep doing our best for a sustainable and just world, and it's also good fun!” - 2020 Volunteer

“Take One Action gave me the confidence to express my views and opinions about the world and helped me meet other people who want to change the world in a positive way.” - 2019 Volunteer

“I felt I was a real part of the festival - I was so impressed with the level of involvement from volunteers at an early stage and I think for a volunteer it is so fulfilling to be a part of the festival from early on instead of being roped in at the last minute.” - 2020 Volunteer

“I valued the inclusiveness and the positive atmosphere. The team made great efforts to truly make us part of the festival and not just a convenient ad-hoc help.” - 2017 Volunteer

THE FESTIVAL

Take One Action runs the UK's leading global change film festival, celebrating the people and the films that are changing the world. Our year-round screenings and events connect individuals and groups through film, creativity and action for a better world – starting from Scotland.

Established in 2008, we are an Edinburgh-based, independent charity founded by film lovers, cultural activists and international campaigners who believe that shared cinematic experiences can catalyse lasting change. Since our creation, our inclusive, participatory activities have reached just shy of 70,000 audiences, bringing together local communities, filmmakers, campaigners, academics and artists to connect around stories of global concern and to explore their role in bringing about a fairer, more sustainable world.

Though COVID-19 has cast much uncertainty on event delivery over the past two years, our hope for 2022 is to bring people together in person to share inspiring films and conversations across four weekends in key Scottish cities in September and October:

- Edinburgh: 16-18 September
- Glasgow: 23-25 September
- Aberdeen: 21-23 October
- Inverness: 28-30 October

We remain committed to ensuring that our volunteer programme is accessible, engaging, rewarding and valuable. Volunteers' input has always formed an essential part of our work and we look forward to building on our volunteer offer in the year ahead.

WHO CAN VOLUNTEER

We are looking for people who are interested in social and environmental justice and who want to be a part of a global change festival. We want this to be your festival and, if you're up for it, we want to involve you as much as possible in helping us deliver on our ambitions for a festival that inspires, empowers and (re-)connects audiences.

This year, we are looking to recruit a team of roughly 20 volunteers, around half of which are usually returning volunteers from previous years. Applicants must be over 18. No previous experience is required, however a sociable nature, love of film, interest in social change and openness to different conversations come in very handy.

WHAT BEING A FESTIVAL VOLUNTEER INVOLVES

Whether you are passionate about social movements, keen to (re-)connect with changemakers through film events and conversations, interested in festival and event management or just looking for a new experience, we hope that our volunteering opportunities have something for you.

We really value the skills and energy that our volunteers bring to the festival. We also value volunteers' knowledge, aspirations and the communities they are building. We hope the different volunteering roles enable you to get involved at a deeper level, with a variety of opportunities for long-term engagement in the lead-up to the festival and beyond. These include:

MARKETING & COMMUNICATIONS

Be the voice of the festival: contribute to the creation of new, original online content (e.g. write blog posts; do an Instagram takeover; help create learning resources...) and/or help tap into your local knowledge by distributing our lovely flyers and posters around your nearest city. This opportunity will enable you to get hands-on experience of marketing & communications.

Alternatively, if you're keener to develop your research and organisational skills, there are also opportunities to support the team with uploading events to the website, identifying / collating key information relating to the films and their wider context (campaigns, lobbying, future events, other opportunities for support...).

ACCESS

Passionate about improving access to culture and reducing barriers to participation? We're inviting volunteers to support us with tasks such as creating descriptive subtitles for trailers and short films, and creating ALT text for assets and images shared on social media and other ways of increasing our access provision.

FESTIVAL EVENT VOLUNTEERS

Do you love the festival buzz? Support us in the delivery of events during the festival! Tasks include:

In-person festival (1-2 shifts):

- Welcoming audience members to the screenings and events, and taking tickets in non-cinema venues.
- Assisting with handing out comp tickets to guests, and running the Box Office at non-cinema venues.
- Helping with the logistics of the post-film discussions (handing the microphone to audience members, distributing any additional materials).
- Gathering and analysing evaluation data and audience feedback.

Full details of these opportunities will be explained in more detail at the initial Volunteer Meet-Up Session to be held via Zoom on Saturday 18 June.

"I loved being involved in the months leading up to the festival. I believe that it helped build a closer team and enabled us volunteers a greater insight into all aspects of festival operations. We felt as if though we were allowed to be a part of every step." – 2020 Volunteer

"Being supported in contributing to the festival over the longer term has made me feel like part of the greater team, contributing in a very real way." – 2019 Volunteer
